

7th Alpe-Adria Diagnostic Cytology Symposium

This seminar and workshop are designed for veterinary practitioners with some basic knowledge of diagnostic cytology who strive to expand their skills in this diagnostic field.

The main topics of the basic course (12 hours) will be the general approach to cytology, cytology of inflammatory processes, tumours, cytology in dermatology, as well as cytology of effusions.

The advanced course (13 hours) will focus on cytology of female reproductive tract, gastrointestinal tract and liver, as well as cytology of nasal exudates, nasal masses, lower respiratory system and bronchoalveolar lavage (BAL).

Lectures, practical work and video-microscopy will be the methods to illustrate the general principles of cytology, the interpretation of a wide range of inflammatory and neoplastic lesions and to go together through interesting practical cases.

The lectures are held in English.
